Eureka Launches On Apr. 23 With Duo

The U.K.'s venerable Eureka Entertainment will be teaming up with MVD Entertainment Group (sales and distribution) for a domestic product launch on Apr. 23.

The leading independent U.K. distributor has long been in demand by collectors and film aficionados, who have had to deal with grey market imports and after market distributors (often at a steep premium)

... it has been a major hassle. That ends on Apr. 23 with the company's first

Apr. 23, Mill Creek's Terminally Optimistic

Mill Creek Entertainment has just announced that Andrés Parra's heartfelt (and very personal) release of Terminally Optimistic will making its DVD debut on Apr. 23.

An award-winning documentary filmmaker, producer and cinematographer, Parra is the head of VenUS Directions, Inc., and has spend over 25 years in all aspects of the film business. It's long list of impressive credits.

Back in 2007, he took some time off and joined SNI (Smiles International Network)

Disney's Poor Things On Mar. 12

Walt Disney Studios Home Entertainment will be bringing home Blu-ray and DVD selections of director Yorgos Lanthimos' Best Picture nominee, Poor Things, starring Emma Stone (nominated Best Actress for her performance), on Mar. 12.

The ARR for that date works out to 95 days and the domestic box office take currently stands at $28.2 million.

A premium VOD window begins on Feb. 27, two weeks prior to the physical media launch, which gives the very sophisticated "helper" community a shot at peddling their own Blu-ray editions to eager consumers (which they will).

Bonus features for Poor Things, nominated for five Oscars, including Best Director and Best Picture for Yorgos Lanthimos — his fifth such nomination (Screenplay for The Lobster; Director and Producer for The Favourite ... also with Emma Stone) — include the featurette titled "Possessing Beauty: The Making of Poor Things" and a trio of deleted scenes.

Arrow's Scarface Mob Ready Apr. 23

Arrow Video, with domestic sales and distribution support provided by MVD Entertainment Group, has something special lined up for the Blu-ray marketplace on Apr. 23. This would be director Phil Karlson's The Scarface Mob.

Back in 1959, producer Quinn Martin (Westinghouse Desilu Playhouse), had Karlson (Walking Tall, Ben, The Brother Rico, They Rode West, etc.) do a two-part pilot, complete with cliffhanger for a new proposed television series title The Untouchables, starring Robert Stack as the legendary FBI crime fighter, Eliot Ness.

For his efforts, Phil Karlson was nominated for an Emmy and won the DGA Award for Outstanding Directorial Achievement in Television.

The series was picked up and ran for four seasons — an additional 118 episodes, 120 if you count the Apr. 20 and Apr. 27, 1959 pilot airings.

In the tradition of the classic serials — Flash Gordon, Buck Rogers and more — the footage of the two-part See Arrow Page 22

Paramount's Lower Decks On Apr. 16

Paramount Home Entertainment has tabbed Apr. 16 as the street for double-disc Blu-ray and DVD editions of the latest away missions featured in Star Trek: Lower Decks, Season 4.

All ten episodes of this animated hit series are featured here. The adventures of the "other" crew members — Ensigns Beckett Mariner (voiced by Tawny Newsome), Brad Boimler (Jack Quaid), D'Vana Tendi (Noel Wells) and Samantha Rutherford (Eugene Cordero) — are showcased, not the traditional away missions (the save the universe stuff) of the bridge officers.

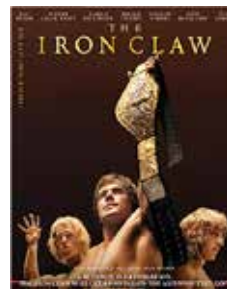

Bonus features include commentary on five of the ten episodes, plus the featurette titled "Lower Decktionary: Setting Up Season 4." As an added bonus, a Star Trek series veteran makes a surprise visit!!

Blu-ray Only For Lionsgate's Iron Claw

Lionsgate Home Entertainment has locked into Mar. 26 as the street date for the A24 production of writer/director Sean Durkin's biopic, The Iron Claw.

This will be a Blu-ray/DVD Combo Pack edition only (no stand-alone DVD).

The ARR for the Mar. 26 physical media release date comes in at 95 days and the domestic box office haul thus far is $34.2 million.

This sports biopic — the Von Erich professional wrestling story (starring Zac Efron and Jeremy Allen White) — includes (as bonus features) the featurette titled "Brotherhood is Forever: Making The Iron Claw" and a Q&A session with the cast and crew.

A movie poster for 'The Cat and the Canary'. The top features the text 'The Masters of Cinema Series'. Below it is a collage of characters: a man with a mustache and a top hat, a woman with a fur collar, a man with a wide-eyed expression, a woman with a feathered headdress, and a man with glasses. In the background, a large, dark, and spooky house with many windows is visible. The title 'The CAT and the CANARY' is written in large, stylized letters. At the bottom, it says '4K Digital Restoration' and 'Blu-ray Arrives April 23, 2024'. The Eureka! logo is in the bottom right corner.

A movie poster for 'Bulletproof Jesus'. The central figure is a man with long, dark hair and a beard, wearing a black tank top. He has several bullet wounds on his chest and forehead. He is holding a large, ornate sword vertically in front of him. In the background, there are several hands holding handguns, aiming them at the central figure. The background is a dark, industrial setting with a bright light source on the left.

for a trip to Peru, visiting Machu Picchu, etc. It was during this trip that he met Eva, she would become the love of his life.

They returned to the United States and began a serious relationship. It began as a love story and not the stuff for a documentary, but all that changed when Eva was diagnosed with breast cancer.

Terminally Optimistic is her story, along with two others, Kim and Krissy, who are also battling the long, hard battle against the insidious nature of metastatic cancer. They fight, they are optimistic and hopeful ... and inspirational.

Parra didn't set out to make a documentary about such a thing, but what he ended up with is a story about the people he met, the fighters, the organizations, the support groups ... and in the process it became a love story.

For a fell-good film, you will want to be sure to check out director Andrés Parra's Terminally Optimistic on DVD from Mill Creek Entertainment on Apr. 23.

Canary Continued

two Blu-ray product offerings (many more to follow).

The first of these is silent film director Paul Leni's 1927 film adaptation of John Willard's popular 1922 stage play, The Cat and the Canary.

This is a new 4K digital restoration of the Museum of Modern Arts' original negatives so this classic nitrate silent film should really pop.

The greedy relatives of Cyrus West — a man of wealth beyond imagine — can't wait for his death, hence the film's title, cats ready to pounce upon a canary. But he as a little "gift" for them, no reading of the will until he has been dead exactly 20 years!!

The time has finally arrived and they have gathered for the reading of his will, only to discover that he has disinherited the lot of them in favor of Annabelle West (played by Laura La Plante - Show Boat, 1929 version, King of Jazz, Arizona, The Sea Ghost, The Last Warning, etc.), an obscure relative. She gets it all!!

The balance of the film plays out like a haunted house thriller as someone — perhaps a family member or an escaped mental patient — terrorizes poor Annabelle, who must prove that she is sane to claim the fortune.

Bonus nuggets from Eureka Entertainment for this Blu-ray presentation of The Cat and the Canary are two newly prepared commentary options. The first teams author Stephen Jones with his long-time collaborator and fellow author and film critic Kim Newman, while the second commentary option features film historians Kevin Lyons and Jonathan Rigby.

There are three featurettes — "Mysteries Mean Dark Corners," "Pamela Hutchinson on The Cat and the Canary" and "Phuong Le on The Cat and the Canary" — as well as excerpts from Willard's play and a vintage film promotion featuring director Paul Leni titled "Lucky Strike."

Also getting an Apr. 23 Blu-ray launch from Eureka Entertainment is director Daniel Lee's Black Mask, a blend of action with sci-fi elements, starring Jet Li.

The film was released in Hong Kong in 1996 and finally arrived domestically as an English-dubbed version in May of 1999, pulling in $12.5 million during its theatrical run.

The DVD debuted 200 days later on Nov. 30, 1999 ... and the first Blu-ray edition surfaced on Sept. 2, 2008.

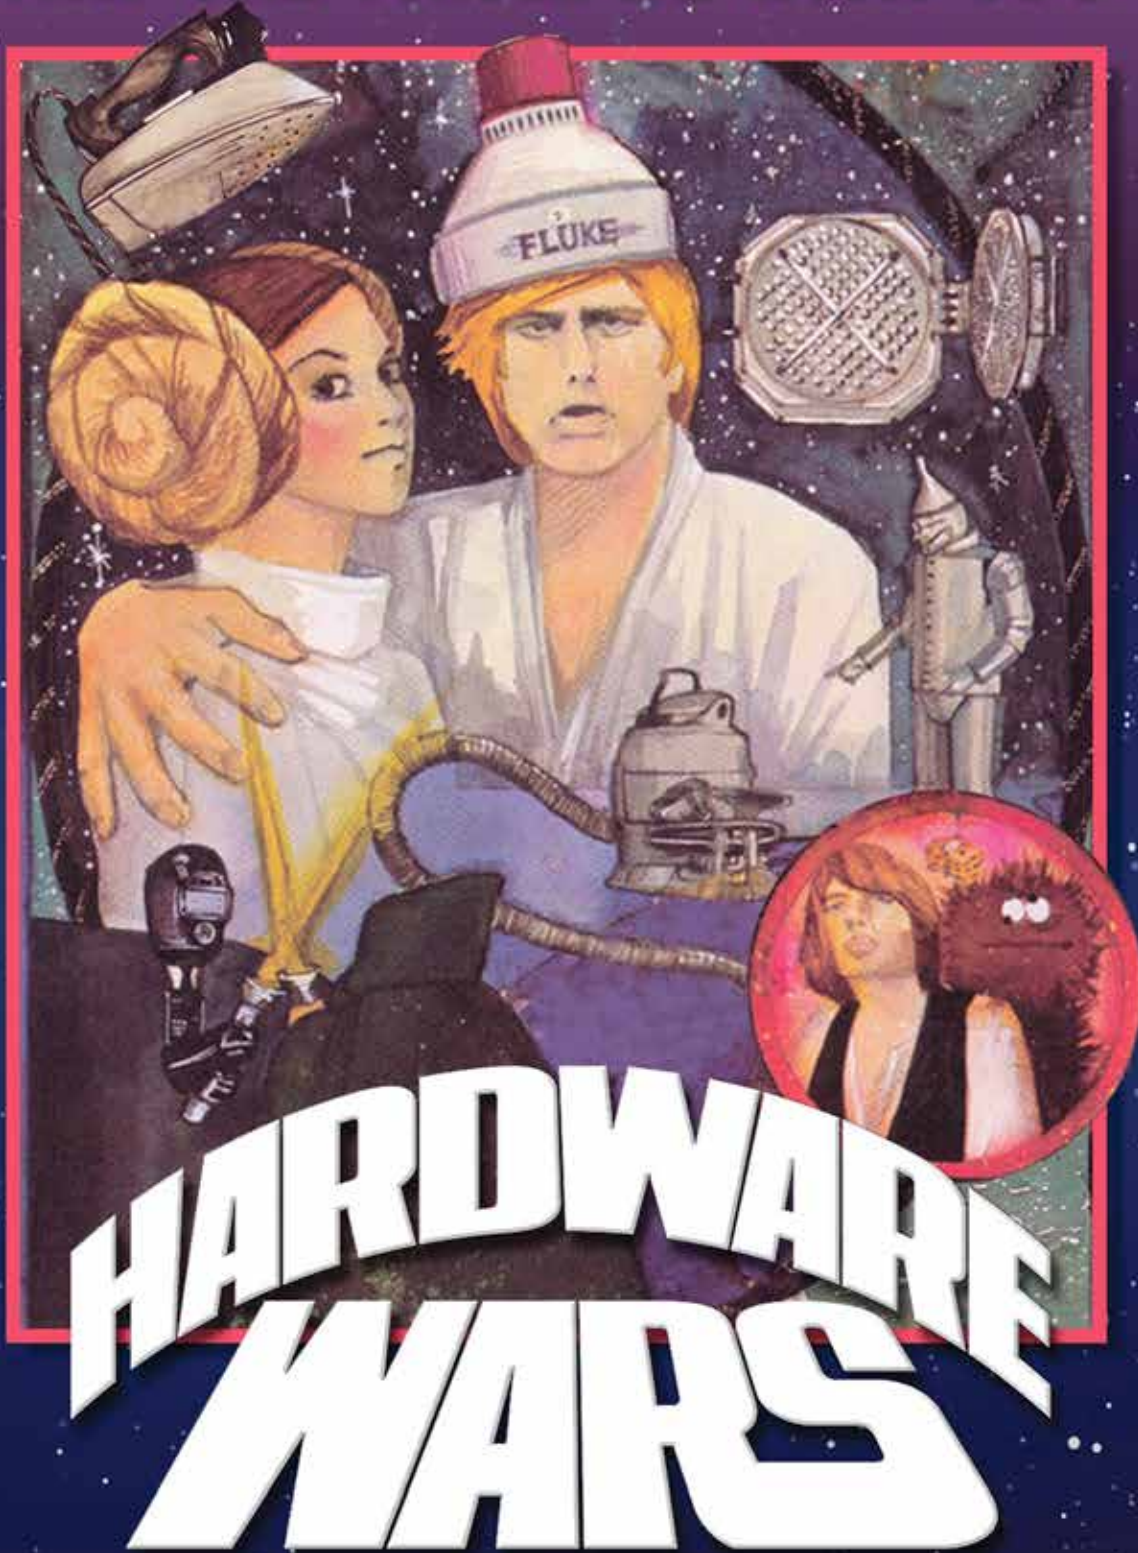

Eureka has gone the extra mile here. This is a double-disc Blu-ray presentation, which features 2K-film restorations of both the fully-restored uncut Hong Kong release version (presented in Cantonese with English subtitles) and the English-dubbed theatrical cut.

The Cantonese-language cut features commentary from Asian film expert Frank Djeng, while the English-dubbed theatrical cut has commentary from film historians Mike Leer and Arne Venema.

Additional bonus goodies include video sessions with stuntman Mike Lambert, easternKicks.com film critic Andrew Heskins and author Leon Hunt ("Kung Fu Cult Masters: From Bruce Lee to Crouching Tiger"), plus an archival making-of featurette.
