Mar. 18, Arrow's 4K For Deep Blue Seas

Arrow Video, with domestic sales and distribution expertise provided by MVD Entertainment Group, will be giving director Renny Harlin's 1999 "haunted house" terror hit, Deep Blue Sea, the 4K Ultra HD treatment (4K restoration from the original camera negative) on Mar. 18 with the release of both 4K Ultra HD and Blu-ray purchasing options.

Wait, wait, wait just a minute!!

Deep Blue Sea a "haunted house" genre flick?

Isn't this a

Mill Creek's Icons Unearthed: Marvel

Mill Creek Entertainment will be releasing a three-disc Blu-ray set titled Icons Unearthed: Marvel on Jan. 14.

This eight-segment mini-series will be a must-have for fans of all-things Marvel (Marvel Films, Marvel Studios ... comic books, television series, etc.).

The founding and early history of Marvel (beginning in 1993 with Avi Arad) are explored, including the "learning curve" relationship with a major Hollywood studio, a planned bankruptcy and a fresh start with the arrival of

Universal's Wicked Ready On Feb. 04

Universal Pictures Home Entertainment will be delivering a full-spread physical media helping of director Jon M. Chu's film adaptation of Stephen Schwartz's blockbuster stage play, Wicked (Part 1) on Feb. 4.

The ARR works out to 74 days and the domestic box office haul thus far is an impressive $443.9 million.

This is basically the first act of the musical (ending with "Defying Gravity"), with the second act set for release on Nov. 21 of 2025 and titled Wicked: For Good. Keeping it from being leaked before its world-wide theatrical debut will be quite the challenge for Universal and producers Marc Platt and David Stone.

Planned for distribution on Feb. 4 are stand-alone DVD and Blu-ray selection, plus a 4K Ultra HD/Blu-ray Combo Pack purchasing option.

Universal opened a premium VOD window on Dec. 31, giving the "Helper" community seven full weeks to distribute their own Blu-ray editions of Wicked to unsuspecting fans.

As to bonus delights, there are

Blue Underground's Venom 4K, Mar. 25

Blue Underground, with sales and distribution support provided by MVD Entertainment Group, has a new 4K film restoration (from the 35mm internegative) of director Piers Haggard's 1981 film adaptation of Alan Scholefield's 1977 novel Venom set for release as a 4K Ultra HD/Blu-ray Combo Pack release on Mar. 25.

It is reported, from both press and previous commentary sources, that Tobe Hooper was originally the director of this crime thriller/slithery horror chiller, but nine days into the production he was fired (reasons have never been made clear).

With the cast already in place and production time limited, a last minute replacement for the direction of the film took the form of television series filmmaker Piers Haggard, See Venom Page 22

Gladiator II From Paramount On Mar. 4

Paramount Home Entertainment has tabbed Mar. 4 as the street date for DVD and 4K Ultra HD/Blu-ray Combo Pack editions of director Ridley Scott's Gladiator II.

A trend perhaps? This marks the second major theatrical release in a row from Paramount to skip the Blu-ray format ... Smile 2 on Jan. 21 is also configured as DVD and 4K Ultra HD/Blu-ray Combo Pack product offerings only.

For the record, the ARR comes in at 102 days and the domestic box office take currently stands at $167.1 million.

A premium VOD window was launched on Dec. 24, which is 32 days into the film's theatrical run. This gives the "Helper" community ten weeks to distribute their own Blu-ray editions of Gladiator II.

Bonus goodies include deleted scenes and a half-dozen featurettes — "A Dream that was Rome: Origins," "What We Do in Life Echoes in Eternity: The Cast," "In the Arena: Filmmakers," "To Those About to Die, We Salute You: Combat," "Building an Empire: Post-Production" and "The Making of Gladiator II."

Criterion Announces March Calendar

The Criterion Collection has revealed its March lineup of new film restorations, which features five new 4K Ultra HD/Blu-ray Combo Pack releases spread out over each of the four street-date Tuesday during the month.

As always, it is a very subjective choice as to which film treasure to focus on, but for the month of March we will focus on director Arthur Penn's 1975 mystery/thriller, Night Moves, starring Gene Hackman, Susan Clark, Jennifer Warren and a teenage relative newcomer by the name of Melanie Griffith, who might just have a future in film.

NIGHT OF THE BLOOD BEAST

With a NEW HD PRINT of

ATTACK OF THE GIANT LEECHES

NO ONE IS SAFE WHILE THESE GROTESQUE HORRORS ROAM THE LAND!

Executive producer Roger Corman unleashes hideous aqua beasts and horrors from outer space in two of his most memorable thrillers. A mutant stalks the Earth when the body of a dead astronaut is used as an alien incubator in Night of the Blood Beast (1959). Equally revolting is Attack of the Giant Leeches (1958), which stars B-movie siren Yvette Vickers (Attack of the 50-Foot Woman) in a watery scare fest about massive, bloodsucking monsters. The two features were directed by Bernard Kowalski who went on to be Emmy-nominated for his television work, but they are truly representative of Corman's world: cheap, tasteless, and extraordinarily fun!

BONUS FEATURES

- TV (1.37:1) format of Night of the Blood Beast
- 8mm silent digest version of Night of the Blood Beast
- Feature-length commentary tracks by Tom Weaver and 'The Weaver Players' for both films
- Mystery Science Theater 3000 episodes featuring Night of the Blood Beast and Attack of the Giant Leeches
- Born From T.V.: Bernard Kowalski as a Director, a new featurette from Ballyhoo Motion Pictures with film historian/screenwriter C. Courtney Joyner and audio readings by Andrew Fenady, Jr.
- Night of the Blood Beast & Attack of the Giant Leeches publicity & still slideshow courtesy of Mike Barnum, and a Yvette Vickers slideshow courtesy of Tom Weaver
- Full-color booklet insert with original essays by Tom Weaver
- Re-cut trailers for both films using restored elements
- Film restoration comparison for Night of the Blood Beast

Ginger in the Morning

A free-spirited young hitchhiker befriends a middle-aged man in this lighthearted charmer. Sissy Spacek, in between her star turns in Badlands and Carrie, plays the title role, and is joined by such stars as Monte Markham, Mark Miller, and Fred Ward. The movie has a great early seventies feel, and may make you yearn for the days when picking up hitchhikers was an everyday thing!

creature feature?

Sure. It can be both ... but we lean toward the “haunted house” thriller aspect ... and here’s why!

First, it has a victim’s pool, including the likes of Samuel L. Jackson, Saffron Burrows, LL Cool J, Thomas Jane, Michael Rapaport, Stellan Skarsgard, Aida Turturro and Jacqueline McKenzie (is there a “final girl” among that lot?).

Next, it has an isolated location — it doesn’t have to be a real haunted house or haunted mansion to be a “haunted house” horror tale. A cabin in the woods, an abandon psychiatric facility, or in this case, a floating research platform in the middle of the ocean will all work just fine.

And finally there has to be a “killer” that is working his, her or its way through the “victim pool.” Slasher, serial killer or, in the case of Deep Blue Sea, super-smart sharks that are gaining access to the floating lab by sinking it level by level and picking off members of the research team as they proceed with their diabolical shark plan.

Bonus goodies include not one, but three commentary options. The first is an archival commentary featuring filmmaker Renny Harlin and actor Samuel L. Jackson. The next two are newly-minted — screenwriter Duncan Kennedy and film critic Rebekah McKendry are your two choices.

Additional bonus features include, deleted scenes (with commentary by Harlan), the archival featurette titled “When Sharks Attack: The Making of Deep Blue Sea” and two newly-prepared featurettes — “From the Frying Pan ... Into the Studio Tank” and “Beneath the Surface.”

Wicked Continued two commentary options—one featuring director Jon M. Chu (In the Heights, Crazy Rich Asians, Now You See Me 2, etc.) and the second featuring the film’s stars, Cynthia Erivo (Luther: The Fallen Angel, Bad Times at the El Royale, Drift) and Ariana Grande (Don’t Look Up).

There are also deleted and extended scenes and four production featurttes — “Making Wicked,” “Welcome to Shiz,” “A Wicked Legacy” and “The Wonderful Wizard.”

who had only recently made the move to feature films — The Fiendish Plot of Dr. Fu Manchu the previous year (1980).

Directing “on the fly” (so to speak), Haggard dumped all of Hooper’s footage and started fresh. How the Hooper film would have played out — compared to what Haggard delivered — remains a topic of discussion among genre fans to this day.

That aside, Klaus Kinski and Susan George have devised a plan to kidnap the ten-year-old grandson of a wealthy hotel chain owner (Sterling Hayden). To help carry out the plan the sexy Susan George (who had established herself as such in such films as Fright, Straw Dogs and Dirty Mary Crazy Larry) seduces the family chauffeur, played by Oliver Reed.

It’s a fool proof plan, except there’s mix-up on a pet snake delivery — changing the storyline from a kidnapping caper to a horror tale — and in no time the snake (in the upscale London townhouse), which is a deadly Black Mamba, attacks and kills the sexy Susan George (good lord, what were they thinking in killing her off in the first act??).

To make matters worse, the snake toxicologist (Sarah Miles) for which the Black Mamba was intended, discovers the mix-up and informs the police. An office stops by to inform the residents that there was a little mix-up and is promptly shot dead. The chauffeur, the kidnapper, the hotel owner and kid are now trapped with a killer on the loose and the police surrounding the place ... tick tock, tick tock, who will be the next victim!!

Hell of a cast when you think about it!

Bonus goodies include two commentary options — the vintage Pier Haggard commentary (detailing the production) and a newly-prepared commentary with film historians Troy Howarth, Nathaniel Thompson and Eugenio Ercolani.

Blue Underground has also prepared four new featurettes — “Fangs for the Memories,” “A Slithery Story,” “Mamba Memories” and “Pick Your Poison.”

Criterion Continued

The street date will be Mar. 25.

This is one of those ducks out of water. The studio (Warner Bros.) actually delayed the release until Griffith turned eighteen so that they could skirt potential legal issues related to her nude scenes (underwater), which were shot actually 18 months earlier.

The studio also didn’t understand what filmmaker Arthur Penn was up to with his storyline, so they staggered the opening of the film to try and generate critical interest (treating it as something of an arthouse entry).

Regardless, Night Moves — often described as neo-noir — is a gem, with an outstanding performance from Hackman and plenty of exposure for the female members of the cast.

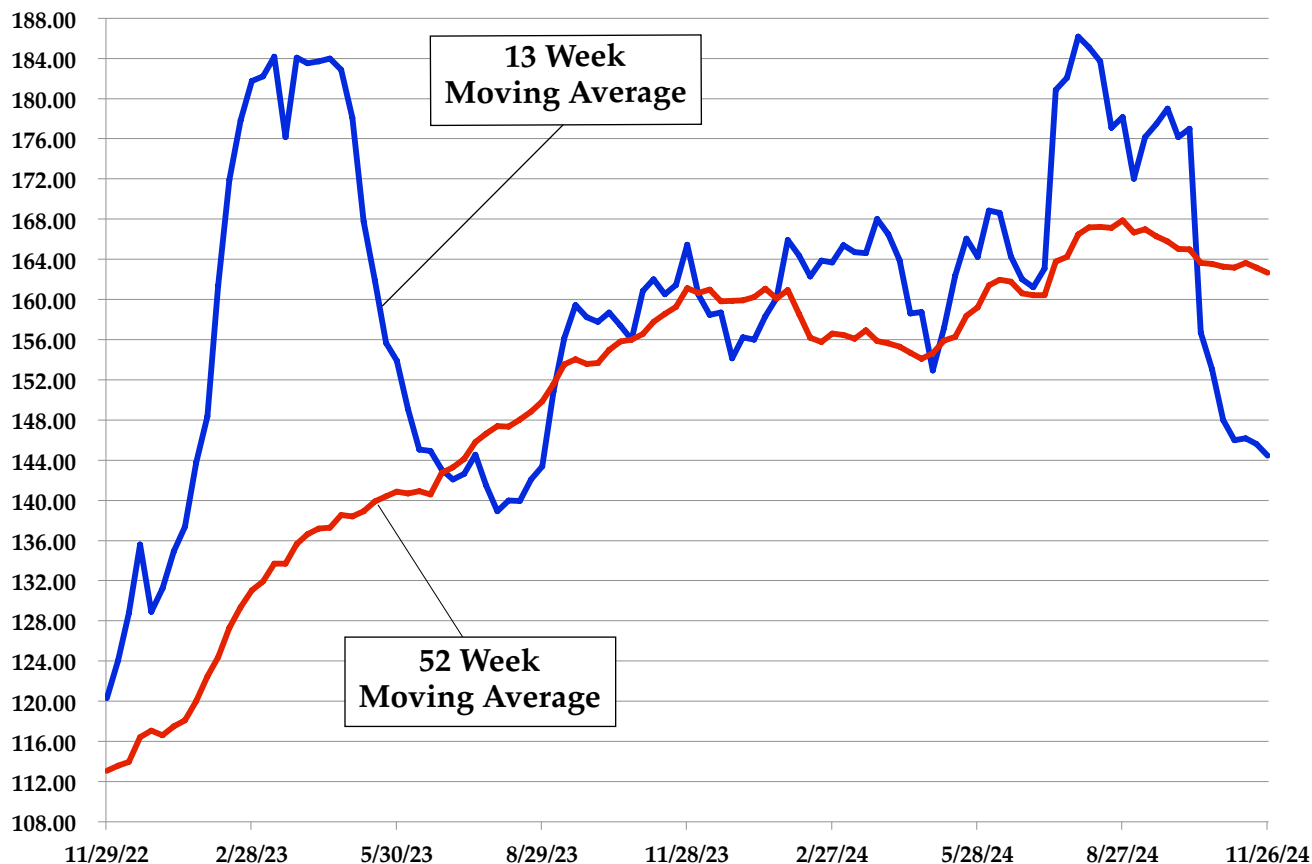

Bonus features include commentary by author Matthew Asprey Gear (“Moseby Confidential”), a new audio-only session with Jennifer Warren, two vintage Arthur Penn interviews and the featurette titled “The Day of the Director.”

Also on the 4K Ultra HD front from Criterion in March are director Henri-Georges Clouzot’s 1953 masterpiece, The Wages of Fear (Mar. 4 ... also a Blu-ray purchasing option); director Michael Mann’s 1981 film release of Thief, starring James Caan (Mar. 11); director Kazuki Omori’s 1989 Godzilla / kaiju franchise entry, Godzilla vs. Biollante (Mar. 18 ... also with a stand-alone Blu-ray release) and the under-appreciated 1984 film release of Choose Me from director Alan Rudolph will be available on Mar. 25 (also on Blu-ray).
